EXERCISE 3

You will hear a man talking about what life will be like in 2116. Listen and underline the correct word in brackets. (10x1=10 marks)

What life will be like in 2116

A new report shows what life might be like in 100 years from now. It describes skyscrapers that are much 1. (taller / older / smaller) than today's buildings, underwater 'bubble' cities and holidays in space.

The report is from Samsung's SmartThings. It asked experts on space, architecture, and city 2. (planters / planners / plumbers) to give their ideas on life in 2116. They said the way we live, work and play will be 3. (locally / globally / totally) different to how we do these things today. The experts said that 25 years ago, people could not imagine how the Internet and smartphones would change our lives.

The Internet has 4. (revitalised / revolutionised / evolutionised) the way we communicate, learn and do daily things. The experts said the changes in the next century would be even more 5. (unbelievable / unbeatable / believable).

Researchers questioned 2,000 adults about the predictions they thought were most 6. (lively / unlikely / likely) to happen in the future. They predicted that in the future, few people will go to an office but will work from home and have 7. (casual / virtual / visual) work meetings. People will have advanced 3D printers that will let you download a design for furniture or a food recipe and then 8. (print / pin / pick) the sofa, table or pizza at home.

There will also be less need for visits to the doctor. We will all have a home 9. (head / health / heart) capsule that will tell us what the problem is and give us treatment. We will also be going into space for holidays and to get 10. (resources / sources / forces) that we have used up on Earth. A prediction that was missing was whether people would still need to study English.
