Hachi

Based on a true story

This is the story of a brilliant dog called Hachi. Hachi was from Japan. He is traveling to the United States when his cage falls at the wrong train station. Parker Wilson, a college professor finds him and takes him to his house. Hachi and Parker develop a close relationship. Hachi goes to the train station with Parker every morning and meets him there again every evening. One morning, Hachi has a bad feeling about Parker going to work and tries to stop him, but Parker fails to read the signs. Unfortunately, he dies while teaching. Hachi waits for his master to return in the evening, but realizes he is not coming. Family members try to make him understand but somehow, he is still hopeful that Parker might come home one day. Every evening Hachi goes to the same place to wait for Parker and this goes on for many years.

'Hachi is a simple, heart-warming story of a loyal dog that waits for his master, even after his master's death. The story is real and takes place in Japan in the early 20th Century.

Studying at home

When it comes to a pandemic... there's no school like home!

Pedro is 12 years old and he's Portuguese. Pedro is a good student and he usually gets good results in his tests and exams, but he doesn't go to school now. The truth is he lives in a big city, where there are many schools, but all the schools are closed. There is a pandemic in the world and children can't go to school.

Pedro studies at home. He's got books, pens, and pencils, but his lessons are on the computer. Every morning Pedro sits in front of his laptop for three hours and watches and listens to his lessons. His teachers use cameras and interactive worksheets. He can talk to his teachers and the other students in his "class". In the afternoon, Peter often does his homework or reads History, Geography, or Maths books. He always emails his homework to his teachers on Friday afternoon.

All the children are at home at the moment. Pedro misses his friends and his teachers but he knows that he has to stay at home. He hopes the pandemic is over soon, so that he can go back to school and play in the schoolyard with his friends.

KING MIDAS

King Midas lived in a big palace near a river. He was very rich but he wanted more – “I want to be richer!”- he said.

One day he found a magic lamp and a magician appeared. – “I want to have more money.”- Said King Midas. The magician wanted to teach him a lesson and said, – “Your majesty, I can give you a special power that will make you the richest man in the world, anything that you touch will turn into gold”.

The king was happy that everything he touched turned into gold. First, he turned tables into gold, then chairs and flowers. But when he sat down for dinner, he also turned his food into gold.

Then King Midas went to visit his daughter and when he kissed her, she turned into gold. He went to ask the magician what was going on. – “I wanted you to understand that the most important thing is your family”, said the magician.

King Midas learned his lesson, and the magician changed everything. King Midas was never sad again and lived happily with his family.
