EXERCISE 3

You will hear a man talking about animal testing for cosmetics in U.K. Listen and underline the correct word in brackets. (10x1=10 marks)

Animal testing for cosmetics in U.K.

The government in the U.K. will allow cosmetics to be tested on animals for the first time in 25 years. It 1. (barred / banned / planned) testing in 1998. It was still allowed on animals if there were 2. (great / grey / grave) benefits for humans. This meant scientists could test chemicals on animals to develop new medicines. However, a court in London said animal testing for cosmetics could 3. (stand / star / start) again.

The judges in the court followed European Union laws on the safer use of chemicals in animal testing. One chemical that can now be tested on animals is already 4. (widely / whitely / wisely) used. It is in sunscreen, foundation and skincare products. The U.K. government said it was "committed to the 5. (projection / protection / collection) of animals in science".

Many people are angry with the government's decision. 6. (Surprisingly / Startlingly / Shockingly), many cosmetics companies are unhappy. A group called Cruelty Free International, which is made up of over 80 cosmetics 7. (bands / brands / marks), wrote a letter to the U.K. government. It said changing the law was a 8. (horrible / sensible / terrible) decision.

A spokesperson for the Body Shop said: "Allowing animal testing for cosmetics would be a devastating blow to the millions of people who have supported 9. (companies / campaigns / complaints) to end this appalling practice." A scientist at Unilever, one of the world's largest cosmetic companies, said testing was "unnecessary". She said that with today's technology, testing could be 10. (carried / tried / cut) out without using animals.
