PART I: LISTENING SKILLS

(25 MARKS)

TASK 1

(10x1=10 marks)

You will hear a conversation about an electrical failure. Listen and circle the correct word in brackets.

Hardy: Hey Sarah, I just found an awesome guitar tutorial, have a look.

Sarah: Let me see....oh, no! Power 1. (cart / cut) once again!

Hardy: I do not understand why the power companies do not notify us in advance about the power cut, like an early warning SMS alert.

Sarah: It's a total 2. (mess / miss). I mean, because of such unexpected power cuts our electronic devices may get 3. (damaged / destroyed) and our daily activities can be lost.

Hardy: It's fine. We can always look the tutorials up when the power is

4. (restarted / restored), can't we?

Sarah: I know we can, but I have lost so much of my work because of this unwarranted professionalism of the Power Supply Company.

Hardy: I 5. (complete / completely) agree with you Sarah. But there is very little we can do 6. (hear / here).

Sarah: Seems you are right... wait, I think we can at least protect our electronic devices by buying a UPS or a Generator and connecting all the devices to it.

Hardy: That's a smart idea. We both should consider buying it seriously. It will serve 7. (as / much) protection whenever we experience such unexpected power cuts.

Sarah: Yay, the power is restored! Come on, let's get going ahead!

Hardy: Now you are 8. (making / doing) another mistake.

Sarah: And what is it?

Hardy: It's always good to wait for 10 to 15 minutes before starting the computer.

Sarah: Okay.

Hardy: And if all is well during this period, and you are sure that power supply has been restored successfully, and everything is back to 9. (usual / normal), start it.

Sarah: But what if we start the computer immediately once the power supply is back?

Hardy: You should remember that there can be another power failure once again for a short period. And you wouldn't want to risk your devices, would you?

Sarah: Wow, where did you get all this information from?

Hardy: From my parents!

Sarah: Really? That's the 10. (last / least) thing I expected! Thanks for sharing this information.

Hardy: You're most welcome.
