An Evening with Shakespeare

On 20 February 2026, three Lyceums of Larnaca joined forces for “An Evening with Shakespeare,” a unique inter-school theatrical event hosted and coordinated by Agios Georgios Lyceum Larnaca.

For the first time, students from three Lyceums came together to perform in English, presenting selected scenes from Shakespeare’s timeless works. Students from Agios Georgios Lyceum, Makario Lyceum and Livadia Lyceum took to the stage with Romeo and Juliet, Much Ado About Nothing and King Lear.

The initiative gave students the opportunity to experience English language and literature beyond the classroom. Preparing and performing Shakespeare in English helped them develop their language and communication skills, confidence, creativity, teamwork and stage presence, while encouraging them to approach classic literature in an engaging and meaningful way. The collaboration also brought together students and teachers from different schools, fostering a strong sense of cooperation and shared achievement.

The performance was warmly received by an enthusiastic audience and demonstrated the value of English-language theatre as a form of experiential learning, combining language education, literature and the performing arts.

The evening also had a charitable dimension, with the net proceeds donated in support of the Paediatric Oncology Department of Makarios Hospital, bringing together education, culture and social contribution.

Following the enthusiastic response to this first inter-school initiative, we hope to build on its success and create further opportunities for students and schools to come together through English-language theatre in the future.
