

Drama Beyond the Stage
School Year 2025 - 2026
MAKARIOS III LYCEUM LARNACA
William Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing" at breaktime!

During break time, the school playground was transformed into a lively extension of our students' evening performance of "Much Ado About Nothing" by William Shakespeare. A series of engaging activities and games were set up, all directly inspired by the play. Students eagerly took part in a language challenge where they had to decide whether certain words were invented by Shakespeare, sparking curiosity and plenty of debate. Others immersed themselves in the world of the play by dressing up in period costumes, bringing characters to life and deepening their connection to the performance.

The excitement continued with students practising sword fighting, role playing and tableaux. Our original play backdrops and props allowed them to recreate key scenes or invent their own, encouraging creativity and collaboration. What made the experience even more memorable was the enthusiastic participation of teachers, who joined in the games, dressed up in costumes, and acted alongside the students. The shared experience created a vibrant, playful atmosphere that reinforced learning while celebrating their hard work on the production.
